A workplace violence event is the perfect storm for revenue loss & liability. This form of coverage is not what any business should ever have to consider, but these types of events are increasing. PLIS, Inc. has designed a multi-faceted stand-alone product to address this growing area of risk. All businesses are vulnerable, whether it is a casual office setting or an establishment with late hours and frequent customers. Injury is an obvious potential loss, but residual community concerns may impact revenue and future growth.

Standard insurance policies may not provide the relief for a depleted revenue stream with related costs because there is no direct covered peril to trigger those policies. The policy provides four (4) types of coverages for these events and includes a 24/7 Crisis Management Resource to manage chaos during an unfolding event. SRM can also provide plans/procedures before a potential event.

CRISIS CONSULTANTS

Purchase the PLIS WVA Policy and gain exclusive access to SPECIALTY RISK MANAGEMENT®, Inc. (SRM®).

The biggest hurdle businesses face is increasing awareness. Many businesses see the red flag, but fail to act early enough. SRM is available to assist during the early stages to develop intervention strategies to alter or influence the outcomes. For the unexpected events, SRM is available 24/7 for immediate crisis response.

Crisis Management is structured to be responsive to four (4) areas of concern. First, every business starts with a basic plan for security and training. Development of these programs/loss controls are essential to any business response. Second, assistance with intervention strategies for evolving or high-risk situations. Third, SRM provides essential crisis management response at the time of an event including media statements, customer/employee assistance, government agency coordination and more. Lastly, SRM will assist with the recovery of the brand name.
